General satisfaction with the results of the A. S. U. H. and Student Council elections which took place Friday at the University has been expressed by students and faculty members.

In the opinion of several upper classmen who were discussing the results of the voting early Saturday morning, Friday's elections were the best ever held at the University during recent years.

Annual Dance for High Schools a Howling Success

Everyone who attended the annual dance given last Saturday night for the high school seniors of Honolulu had a mighty good time. The dance began at 8 o'clock and lasted until 1:30 p.m. The floor was filled to capacity by 8:30 and it was certainly a merry crowd that stepped to the jazz of Jackie Allen's orchestra.

Between dances the merrymakers took in the side attractions, first in Artley Hall, where Prof. Romberg gave demonstrations with the X-ray violet ray, and other apparatus in the Physics lab. Next Prof. Keller gave a demonstration of the power of his tension machine in breaking blocks and heavy beams. This experiment was rather bewildering to many of the spectators, who saw with much awe the heavy beam slowly bend and break under the force of the machine.

Everyone agreed that it was some lunch that was dished out to the thirsty dancers. Miss Laura Pratt and "Wrinkle" Kai deserved a lot of credit for handling this department successfully.

The Glee Club, which recently included Kauai, gave the crowd a real treat when it entertained them with few selections. We now no longer wonder why Kauai has extended the club an invitation for a second visit.

Farmers to Hold Big Luau

All plans and arrangements for the big Aggie luau to be held on Monday evening, May 21, are now completed, according to Chairman A. Y. Kealamakia, who is in charge of the whole affair. It will be a regular Hawaiian luau, in Hawaiian style, with Hawaiian music, hula dancing, and—well, we prefer not to give out too much just now.

The Agricultural Club was formed only a few months ago, and has for its main object the promotion of studies along agricultural lines in the territory. The club has already been honored with distinguished speakers in its weekly meetings, among whom was Mr. Shamel, one of the most well-known plant breeders of today. As a fitting close for a successful beginning, a luau was suggested by the Aggies.

Already more than thirty have signified their intention of attending the big "Blow-out" and we certainly hate to tell you it's going to be some grand affair. And mind you, it will be an exclusive affair too. Only Aggie students will be in the big feed, while others will have to have a "drag" to get in. Prof. Krauss will be the guest of honor, and two or three members of the faculty will be invited.

Everything from the killing and dressing of the pig to decorating the room will be done by the Aggies themselves. "Percival" Chung has already ordered a good-sized puua and he will be ably assisted by D. Forbes and Kealamakia in exercising the dagger. Many have volunteered to get ti leaves, firewood and other necessities that go with a luau, and the Aggies are certainly one happy family. Everything is now set and all Aggies are eagerly looking forward to the approaching feed.

SENIORS HOLD LAST MEETING.

On Monday, at the senior meeting, the class discussed plans for Class Day. Mr. Matsumura, chairman of the committee on Class Day, outlined the program, which is to start with a senior procession at 3:30 P.M., and end up with the Class Supper on the back porch.

The matter of a Class Song was also brought up and Miss May Gay was appointed to take charge of the singing part.

After a little discussion on the senior banquet, the meeting was adjourned.

CHOP SUEY DINNER.

The members of the Aggie Club will give a chop suey dinner on the evening of May 14th. The dinner will be followed by the usual weekly meeting of the club. All hayseeds who intend to attend the feed please sign up with "Bradshaw" Zane and "Percival" Chung, who are in charge of the affair. The two promised to provide the most delicious chow ever put up by the Aggies.

Zane: "I should say you do. When did you take your last bath?"

Adelphai Club Invites Seniors

At the last Adelphai Club meeting the members decided to give a farewell picnic to the graduating senior members at the Pratts' home at Kaneohe on May 13th. The girls and their friends will leave shortly after noon.

Games will be played and supper will be served there. The following officers for the year 1923 to 1924 were also elected:

President, Laura Pratt.
Vice-President, Helene T. Morita.
Secretary, Berthie Louis.
Treasurer, Janet Ross.

Glee Club Concert and Dance

The Glee Club, which recently visited Kauai and made such a hit there, will give a concert and dance on the Young Hotel Roof Garden on the evening of May 19th, at 8 o'clock. The music for the dance will be furnished by the Glee Club orchestra.

Dean Tennis Men Defeat Schofield

Saturday afternoon at Schofield, the Varsity racquetters under Bill Wilson vanquished the soldiers in 5 out of 6 matches.

Capt. R. P. Steivers, 27th Inf., won the only match for the inland post, when he defeated Yamaguchi in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3. Wilson beat E. A. Wooten, 6-4, 6-0. Rugh won from Lieut. Sherr, 6-1, 6-4, and Wicke took the number of Lieut. Trower, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

In doubles, Rugh and Wicke defeated Lieut. Groves and Capt. Steivers 1-6, 6-4, 7-5. Wilson and Yamaguchi downed Wooten and Lieut. Sherr in the best match of the day, finally winning out after brilliant play, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

H. A. Rudin of Waiialua officiated.

PROFESSOR KRAUSS ENTERTAINS

Twenty-five members of the Agricultural Club enjoyed a pleasant evening last Monday at an informal dinner at Prof. and Mrs. Krauss', 2457 Parker Street, Manoa.

It was a game dinner, where the eaters were game—being embryo farmers all—and when everyone was filled to capacity, Espanola opened the most enjoyable moments of the evening by offering a vocal solo in his native tongue. Yim and Zane followed with a song and steel respectively, when a fragment of the famous Glee Club composed of Farden, Bowers, Merlyn and Allister Forbes delighted the party with "Old man Krauss had a farm, iya, iya, yo!"

Lyman amused the crowd by explaining his wonderful project whereby he and Yim are planning to change the lava of Kona into arable land by utilizing the perpetual motion of the ocean as the source of energy.

Companies Display Snap In Field Day

Company K crowned itself with glory when it carried away the honors of the annual R. O. T. C. tournament held on Cooke Field last Friday morning, by defeating Companies I. L. and M.

The tournament was preceded by a review and inspection of the cadet battalion by Governor W. R. Farrington and Colonel A. L. Landers, department R. O. T. C. officer. The battalion was formed at the adjutant's call and then presented to the governor by Cadet Major M. D. Forbes. An inspection followed after which the battalion led by Major M. D. Forbes and the 13th Field Artillery Band passed into review.

The tournament opened with exhibition drills by individual companies in which Company I took first with Companies K and M second and third respectively.

Following this was the tug-of-war, which was won by Company I after a hard tussle with Companies K and M. The blank cartridge race was copped by Ralph Ault of Co. I, with T. L. Wongwai of the same company second and M. Katagiri, Co. L, third. Good time was made in the wall-scaling when Co. K went over in 15 seconds, followed by Co. L in 15:3 seconds and Co. I in 17 seconds.

Rudy F. Tong of Co. I romped off with the honors in the equipment race by placing first in the fast time of 56.4 seconds, S. Ikuta and J. H. Yuen, both of Co. K came in second and third respectively. The pick-a-back race was won by Co. L, with Co. M second and Co. K third.

In the individual competitive drill, which was the final event of the day, R. McLennon of Co. K placed first, A. Duvel, Co. I second, and H. C. Lum, Co. K, third.

STUDENTS GO ON GENETICS TRIP

The Genetics class under the leadership of Prof. Krauss recently made a trip to the different pineapple plantations to study the production of pineapples. Four machines carrying about 20 members started at 6:30 in the morning toward Wahiawa. General studies were made of the methods of cultivation, mulching and plant breeding. Two machines became lost through the blunders of the chauffeurs. This, with the onslaught of a terrific rain, helped to break up the party before it had a chance to carry out all of its original plans. In spite of this fact many instructive and valuable points were gathered about pineapples by the class, thanks to the help and guidance of Mr. Brown and Mr. Caldwell of the Hawaiian Pineapple Co., and Professor Krauss.

told the R.O.T.C. men who are going to the mainland next summer about the agricultural wonders that may be seen near Del Monte, California.

Among those present at the dinner were Prof. and Mrs. Crawford, Messrs. Hughes, Faulkner, Tong, Lyman, Nakano, Jay, Sakamaki, Yim, Espanola, Ormiston, Bowers, Beveridge, Hee, Farden, Yamamoto, Lennox, Chung, Lum, Zane, Deverill, Iwasaki, Tokimasa and the three Forbes brothers.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO REALIZE

Listen! Oh ye fair, kind-hearted damsels of most becoming countenance and otherwise, who hope some day to cheer some deserving male with your life companionship, consider carefully lest you misjudge us, the men whose life purpose it shall be to make "tilling of the soil" a dignified and honorable profession. Listen, I say, to our woeful deliberation and then decide whether or not you are going to allow your tender natures to cause us, the poor farmers, to be left in the lurch, when it come to the point when we are about to add the perfecting touch to our ambitious agricultural careers. The perfecting touch I refer to is the touch that every worthwhile man intends to have come into his life, which is called by convention, marriage, to a woman whose nature is the reciprocal of that of the man who chooses her. Speaking genetically, it is mating, and I might say that the principles taught in genetics have an important bearing when it comes to the choosing of a life mate. We hope to use our knowledge of selection not alone on seeds and plants, but very incidentally upon you, fair damsels, who may some day have the privilege of becoming farmers' wives. Oh!!! Don't—Don't—shake your heads and frown in disgust at the idea, because your idea of the farmer may be that which has been held by many for ages past, which is that he is a man who is capable of nothing but a humdrum life at the hoe or plow—no—no—we would not have you think that. We are trying hard, as I have said before to show people that farming is the real dignified occupation upon which all other professions, and even civilization is dependent. Don't you see that this is exactly where our difficulty lies? Don't you see that our careers may be spoiled, even changed if you fair-thinking creatures get the wrong impression of us and our purposes? The whole truth is this, we hope to make successes of ourselves in the agricultural line, but we also want wives that will help us to do this, and after due deliberation, we the farmers of the University of Hawaii, have decided to form a standard, yes, very flexible indeed, by which we may be guided in the all-important necessity of wife-choosing. Lord knows how we have scrapped and argued over it, but here it is, and we have seriously thought of making it a part of the Agricultural Club Constitution.

HOW TO CHOOSE OUR WIVES.

- (1) Be sure to get a woman.
  - (2) Be careful to get a girl with two eyes, two ears, two arms, two legs (not wooden ones).
  - (3) See that she has one head, one nose, one mouth, one tongue (a short one) real hair (bobbed preferred).
  - (4) Get a girl that can cook like Mother ($100.00 for the first referred to the Agricultural Club).
  - (5) Remember that though beauty is only skin deep, it is only the skin you can see (Aesop's Fables:—Little dabs of powder, little dabs of paint, make So-and-so's daughter, look like what she ain't.)
  - (6) Must look just as dignified when milking a cow as when playing the piano.
  - (7) Must look like a queen when she is driving the Fordson tractor. (Try this on our Fordson.)
- Yours till my hair falls out,
WIFE-SEEKER.

Dramatic Club Election

The following were elected officers for the Dramatic Club for the next year: Miss Laura Pratt, president; H. Keppeler, secretary; and M. Clark, business manager. Y. Goto, R. Hope and B. Clark were elected to revise the constitution. The committee on the selection of the next play has L. Pratt as chairman. Other members are L. Schwallie and T. Lindeman.

A LETTER OF THANKS

May 2, 1923.
Miss Evelyn Drummond,
University of Hawaii,
Honolulu, T. H.
Dear Miss Drummond

Permit me to thank you for your part and the part your associates played in making the recent visit of our Girls' Basketball Team to Honolulu a very much appreciated success. The girls received an inspiration which will be very lasting and the result will doubtless be a very material help to the entire school in breaking up the monotony of regular school routine work.

I trust that return games may be played in Hilo next year and that we may in some measure reciprocate your many kindnesses.

Yours respectfully,
E. A. BROWN.

Dead LOVE Club. Forms

Organizing various clubs seems to be the favorite sport of the Aggies nowadays. The latest one to be formed is known as the Dead Love Club. According to Nick Espanola, who has been unanimously elected president, this club is open to those Aggie students who have at one time or another been disappointed in their courtships and love affairs, although through no fault of theirs. Widowers and divorcees, if there are any, may be permitted to join also.

"From personal experience," says Nick, "I know how it is to lose a girl. My object in forming this club Several students have told me personally that they simply have no love for the feminine figure. That is indeed very sad. I consider love the highest and noblest force in the universe. Let me assure you that I will try my best to revive the love that was once in my fellow-students."

Other officers of the club are:—Everett "Hayseed" Hee, vice-president; "Jerome" Kealamakia, secretary; and "Percival" Chung, treasurer. Meetings will be held every full moon night at the Filipino Center. Besides those mentioned above, other members of the club are "Reuben" Lum, "Hank" Jay, "Fat" Forbes, "Dicky" Lyman, "Devil" Tong, "Bevo" Beveridge, "Bradshaw" Zane, T. S. Park, "Brutus" Forbes, and "Ezekial" Wongwai.

UNIVERSITY COOPERATES WITH THE NORMAL IN AGRICULTURE.

For the first time in its history, through the splendid cooperative spirit of the University, the Territorial Normal School is able to give good foundation courses in general agriculture to its students.

A plot of ground on the University farm has been turned over to that institution for actual practice in growing farm crops and vegetables under Hawaiian conditions. The various farm implements and teams are occasionally at their disposal, so that in this manner the work is made more interesting and practical.

Experiments in cultivation, fertilization, and irrigation are being conducted as well as practice in farm management. Mr. Faulkner, who is head of the Normal Agricultural department, is instructor in this work.

SPORTS AT THE "U"

Indoor sports are the rage at the "U" these days. The Agricultural Club is stepping into the limelight by staging tournaments in chess, checkers and barnyard golf. These tournaments are open to all students and members of the faculty and are proving quite popular, as many parlor athletes have already signed up.

At present writing, chess, checkers and barnyard golf are well under way. From the looks of things, "Bradshaw" Zane has the edge on the rest of the chess fiends, but Jay and Tong expect to give him a run for his money.

In checkers, the Aggies have Everett Hee to uphold their honor. The Arts and Sciences students are not saying much, but they expect to let loose a few dark horses to take the number of "Hayseed" Hee. Anyway, the Farmers are waiting to be shown, as many of them are from Missouri, and they are staking all their alfalfa on their champion to bring home the sowbelly.

The stakes and shoes for the horse-shoe pitching contest have already been obtained, and Chairman Lyman is having the contestants play off their rounds. As the game is quite new at the "U", nobody knows who is going to be the champion horse-shoe pitcher.

Now that baseball is pau, the next sport on the intra-mural program is volleyball. The different classes are getting ready, and the team captains will soon call their men out for practice. The Farmers have already organized a team and Manager Jay expects to send out challenges to the teams of the different departments of the "U".

Volleyball ought to prove a popular sport, and the Varsity team needs lots of material, as the University is entered in the A. A. U. Volleyball League. All right, all you men who think that you can slam a volleyball, come out and try make the team.

Tennis is booming at the "U". Captain Wilson and his champion racquetters expect to invade Maui in the near future. In the meantime, they are taking on the teams of the different schools and army posts, so as to get some practice before tackling the tennis sharks of Maui.

Do You Know

That the Aggie Club is a real live honest-to-goodness organization?

That it is sponsoring an annual barnyard golf tournament?

That, speaking of barnyard golf, there are 1,000,000 horseshoe pitchers in the U. S. A., that almost every crossroad, town and village have regular clubs?

That there is an annual championship tournament in Iowa?

That the present champion is only 15 years old?

That there are two magazines, the "Horseshoe World" and the "Barnyard Golf," devoted to the game.

That K. C. Leebrick used to be a champ in his younger days?

And that "Wrinkles" and Mahi have all the earmarks of champion "tor-eadors"?

The Farmers are Up to Something

One day of last week, while I was in Gartley Hall, the Manoa breezes wafted to my sensitive nose the odor of something that smelt like the stuff that flowed so freely some years ago. I followed the sweet scent, and my beak led me up to the sugar lab, where I espied Bevo, Allister, Kinney, Lum and Jay grouped around a funny "dochicky", which chemists call a condenser. The boys were watching a clear white liquid trickling down into a flask from the outlet of the condenser, and I could see smiles creeping over their manly faces as the flask became rapidly filled.

"Hey, what are you guys doing?" I asked.

"Oh," piped up Bevo, "we're just having an experiment in fermentation. We're determining the amount of okolehao that could be obtained from molasses. Now, what do you want?"

"Nothing," I blurted out, "I just thought that maybe you guys would be kind enough to let me in on your party."

"Aw, gwan, go up to the dairy and ask Pekelo for a quart of milk. That's the stuff for kids like you," growled Allister.

With this rebuff, I walked sheepishly out of the lab. And as I wended my way to Hawaii Hall, I wondered if these hayseeds were getting ready for that Hawaiian luau, which the Aggie Club's going to give on the 21st. Now, I dunno.

AGGIES TO GO PIG-HUNTING

Three husky Aggies, noted for their strong physique, keenness of eye, wonderful sense of smell, and other qualities that go with hunters, have been selected to secure the pig for the big Aggie luau on the 21st of May. These men are "Jerome" Yim, Brute Forbes, and "Percival" Chung. They will leave here Saturday evening, May 19, and tramp over to the Red Hills back of Moanalua.

The success of the luau will depend mainly on these huskies, and the Aggie Club is sparing nothing to give them all the moral support they need. "Jerome" Yim, head of the party, has this to say: "We will try our darnedest to bring home the bacon, and I want to assure the Aggie students that when they selected us three, they showed common horse sense. However, if we are unsuccessful, I will simply have to sacrifice my prized Airedale, although it will be a hard blow to me. Dogmeat,

THERE ARE innumerable ways in which personal injury may be caused by the use of an automobile, and while, as frequently happens, it may be due to the carelessness of the injured person, claims for damages are almost certain to be made, and unless disposed of, an expensive law suit may follow.

Shift this responsibility to a reliable Insurance Company by purchasing a Policy, and when the accident occurs you have simply to report it at once and be relieved of annoyance and expense.

The policy does not expire upon the limits being reached, but continues its warranty to pay within such limits upon every accident that may take place while the policy is in force.

UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII AGRICULTURAL CLUB, ITS AIMS

To further interest in agriculture in the University of Hawaii and throughout the Territory.

To encourage the pursuit of scientific research along agricultural lines.

To further the interest of others in the work of the University of Hawaii.

To foster the idea in the University and elsewhere of putting the University of Hawaii on an equal standing in agriculture with the agricultural institutions on the mainland.

These aims certainly speak for themselves! What others can be better and nobler than these in our attempt to serve and uplift the Territory in scientific agriculture!

The County Agent System | An Economical Suggestion

By its refusal to pass the bill establishing a system of county agents in these Islands, the Legislature has seriously handicapped the farmers of Hawaii, and postponed the time when diversified farming may become here a real success. Judging from the abundant evidence of the county agent system throughout the United States, the investment of public money in this service brings tangible returns in the increase of taxable prosperity on the farms, as well as other benefits which are more or less intangible. But our statesmen could not see the wisdom of this kind of investment, preferring to buy up second-hand movie films instead.

So far as the University is concerned, there is a feeling of relief that the extra job of organizing and running the county agent system does not have to be taken on by the Extension Division as proposed in the Governor's bill which was turned down in the House. But with this feeling of relief there is also a certain disappointment that the people of the Territory cannot be given the helpful services which would be possible from a group of county agents working with the University.

It takes time in a democracy to get a new thing going, and we suppose that in time Hawaii will adopt the county agent method of helping farming to be financially successful.

Potatoes are commonly known to have eyes, and judging that they will give forth water as do many other eyes, could not they be put to some use? Water is in great demand, especially if produced economically. A very effective means of causing water to flow from eyes in the presence of onions. Now, if onions and potatoes were planted in alternating rows it is self-evident that irrigation will be unnecessary, as the onions would cause the eyes of the potatoes to water, thus furnishing both crops with moisture; indeed enough might be produced to irrigate other crops or even be collected and used to furnish the swimming tank with its all important substance. The first cost would be the only large item, providing the engineers could work out an economical means of collecting and transporting the vital fluid. Are you capable of solving your part of the problem, Engineers, that we may unite in this work of affording the University so great a saving?

What does "Reuben" Lum mean when he said that his love was dead? Did some farm lassie turn him down?

What does "Bradshaw" Zane do now on moonlight nights? Does he still go walking with "somebody"?

We would like to know who Nick Espanola is going to invite out to the senior banquet. Will it be Bonifacia Cabayan?

"Cyrus" Chung has been detailed to get the pig for the Aggie Club luau. I hope he gets it, for the Lord pity "Salty's" pet Airedale if he does not.

Jay, Tong, A. Forbes and M. Forbes dropped off to sleep several times last week while Prof. Krauss was lecturing. I wonder how late did they stay up.

Bevo carries a smile around these days and occasionally smacks his lips. I wonder if he's thinking about that luau or of his experiment in molasses fermentation.

Jay and Tong played chess one night to as early as three in the morning. They must be earnestly practicing for that chess tournament. Bradshaw, Beware!!

"Hayseed" Hee started out one morning to milk his first cow, but he came back in a hurry, for an old red bull was chasing him. I wonder what he did to get the bull so mad.

"Fraznac" has already asked Lady of Manoa to the senior banquet at the Country Club on June 2nd. I'd like to know how he's going to bring her out.

Farmer: "So you are an experienced milker, are you? Well now, which side of the cow do you sit on when you milk her?"

Applicant (from the city): "Well, I'm not a bit particular if the cow isn't."

WELL! WELL! WELL!

We have moving picture actors right here in our midst—right in the University—did you know that?

If not you'd better see the mad-in-Honolulu-and-Hawaii photo feature that everyone has been waiting for—at the
